In 1939 our founder, Junius Armentor, with very little borrowed money and an overwhelming charm opened up this small local jewelry store with the idea of "Making every customer a friend, and you'll have a customer for life." We are now three generations strong and that philosophy stills holds true today. With Eric, the current owner, and his son Mike, the Armentors are dedicated to bringing the latest and freshest styles in jewelry, always at the best value, and most importantly, always with a smile on their faces. Since our beginning, we have offered the best service, best value, and best selection of merchandise in our area. Give us a try and see why our expertise, friendly faces, and fair pricing make a very pleasant buying experience every time you're in the market for jewelry.

You'd been planning this moment since you were four years old and you must have gone over the details a thousand times: how he'd ask, what time of day it would be, even how you'd react to it! But when he surprised you on a busy street corner, you immediately gave up all your old dreams for an amazing new future.

He was the kind of guy who didn't like having fancy things — too worried that he'd break them or lose them. So when he saw the box on the front seat of the car, he didn't open it until he got to work. But when he saw the embossing on his new wallet — In Dave We Trust — he knew that as long as she believed in him, it would be okay.
